Sexual harassment is an issue fresh from today's headlines and one that affects every school and every school system.

This 2' x 3' full-color poster from DayOne, developed specifically to address school environments, provides information that all employees—at all levels—must know:

- What actions constitute sexual harassment. The poster lists many examples.
- How to determine if you are a victim of sexual harassment. The poster supplies numerous instances.
- What you should do if you are being sexually harassed. The poster describes a variety of steps you should take to protect yourself.
- What you should do if a student is being sexually harassed. The poster provides several non-judgmental approaches that create responses while ensuring student safety.

The poster also includes language from Title IX that defines sexual harassment.

Information is also provided about avoiding high-risk activities with students, including advice about not being alone with students, not responding to flirting, etc.

The presence of this poster and its content in your school will continually review the significant concepts of dealing with sexual harassment and can serve as a visual reminder of the importance of yearly training.

Poster is 24" x 36"

PRINCIPALS: Place several posters in your workrooms and faculty room to ensure that your staff is fully informed about this critical school issue.

Judy Dewey, author of this poster, is also co-author of the "Dealing with Behavioral Disorders" card and the "Tips & Strategies for School Bus Drivers" card from DayOne Publishing.
